

Welcome to The Henry Jones Art Hotel. This latest edition of our art newsletter will keep you up to date with all the artworks arriving at the Hotel as well as promoting local art events that may be of interest to you. One of the benefits of our location is our close proximity to venues where you can experience visual art, theatre, local music and festivals. Our reception staff are always on hand to assist with enquires regarding art purchases and information about artists and affiliated galleries. On Trip Advisor our guests have voted us one of Australia's 25 premium hotels for romance and luxury, placing us in the top 1% of all hotels in Australia. So rest assured that we will do everything possible to make your visit to Hobart enjoyable and memorable.

Terence Munday, York Plains Tas, 2018, Photographic print, 116x73cm, $900 location: Packing Room.

FINAL WEEKS OF TERENCE MUNDAY – NOCTURNE

This is the last chance to see Terence Munday's exhibition 'Nocturne'.

In this exhibition Terence captures the unique Australian landscape in exquisite detail under the cover of darkness. Armed with a keen eye and his camera lens, Terence takes us on a journey from the Northern Territory to Tasmania, 'painting' the landscape with light beams to reveal its hidden beauty.

The exhibition will be open 9:30am – 5:00pm daily until the 10th February, in The Packing Room, IXL Atrium, 25 Hunter Street, Hobart.

NEW ARTIST: CATHERINE D'ORAZIO

New to our stable is Catherine D'Orazio! Catherine is a process-based artist, whose focus is non-objective, colour-field works on paper. Her intention is to encourage the viewer to experience the blocks of colour individually and as a whole, allowing personal response through immersion and contemplation.

Catherine's artworks are currently on display in the IXL Long Bar, so pop in, grab a drink and allow the colours to wash over you.

Angus Douglas, Precipitous Realm, 2019, acrylic on canvas, 167 x 200cm, location: Packing Room.

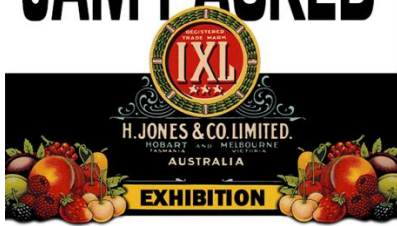

PACKING ROOM: ANGUS DOUGLAS

The Henry Jones is proud to present Angus Douglas' latest exhibition Vertigo, South West Tasmania.

Angus is a master of capturing the spectacular colours and topography of our beautiful island state. In this series, Angus takes us high above the canopies of the rugged South West coast of Tasmania, in the cockpit of a light aircraft, providing us with a birds eye view of the some of the most isolated and stunning areas in Tassie.

The exhibition will be open 9:30am – 5:00pm daily from the 14th February, in The Packing Room, IXL Atrium, 25 Hunter Street, Hobart.

JAM PACKED

contemporary tasmanian art

Students of the TUU Painting Society invite you to their exhibition 'Jam Packed' in January. Location: Entrepôt Gallery

JAM PACKED EXHIBITION

The Tasmanian University Painting Society invites you to their latest exhibition, 'Jam Packed' which showcases the work of University of Tasmania students and graduates and provides an opportunity to talk to the Artists in Residence.

The exhibition will be held a few doors up from the Hotel in the Entrepôt Gallery. Pop in and meet the artists at the exhibition opening on Friday 8th Feb 4-6pm. The exhibition will be open daily through until the 22nd February.

In support of our local artists, Jam Packed Café (located in the hotel Atrium) invites all visitors from the Jam Packed Exhibition to enjoy a muffin and a medium coffee for the discounted price of $9.50.

FELINES IN FEBRUARY: REBEKAH FRANCIS

Keep a eye on the atrium cabinet, as Rebekah Francis creates a gorgeous new artwork each day for the entire month of February.

This series focuses on the daily adventures of the domestic feline, through stories that have been shared with the artist about various cats. Capturing simple 'everyday' moments, Rebekah renders each scene in delicate watercolours, pen and washi tape. These small artworks are humorous and with a strong sense of familiarity and warmth. With new work being added daily, it will be worth multiple visits!

Rebekah Francis' playful cat ink and water colours will be on display in the Atrium Light Box throughout February.

THE HENRY JONES ART & HISTORY TOUR

Our popular Art & History Tour commences daily at 4pm and is not to be missed. The tour has been ranked number 30 out of 143 top experiences in Tasmania via Trip Advisor 2019.
